GENERAL INFORMATION

- ◆ It is unlawful to buy or sell any fish taken by sport fishing, including angling, bankline, setline, floatline, and trotline, fishing taken from any water area in the state.
- ◆ It is unlawful to transport and introduce any aquatic species (fish, invertebrate, plant) from one body of water to another.
- ◆ It is unlawful for the public to tag and release fish into any public water area.
- ◆ It is unlawful for any person to possess a fish in any form or condition other than whole while on or when unloading the fish from a boat, while wading, or while fishing from shore on any waters in this state where a fishing license is required.

In addition:

- Fillets must be kept whole until an angler reaches their permanent residence or until the fish are prepared for immediate consumption.
- There is no requirement to keep any skin on fillets.
- This does not apply to anglers with a receipt from a fish cleaning house or charter captain which states the date, number, and type of fish possessed.
- Fish may be transported whole or as a complete fillet while returning from the Lake Erie islands on a commercial ferry boat.

■ ARCHERY ANGLERS • Archery anglers may use bows of any draw weight. A fishing license is required. Longbows may be used to take bullfrogs, green frogs, snapping and softshell turtles, and forage fish. Crossbows may be used to take forage fish.

■ BAIT • It is unlawful for any person except licensed bait dealers to possess more than 100 crayfish or in combination 500 crayfish, minnows, and other bait fish. A bait dealer's permit is required of persons buying or selling minnows, crayfish, and hellgrammites. This permit may be obtained from any wildlife district office.

■ CAST NETS • Forage fish and minnows may be taken with cast nets. It is unlawful to use a cast net with a square mesh less than ¼-inch or larger than one inch on a side, or with a diameter greater than 10 feet. It is illegal to use a cast net within a distance of

1,000 feet downstream from any dam posted with Division of Wildlife signs indicating cast net use is prohibited.

■ CLAMS, MUSSELS, & MUSSEL SHELLS

• Clams, mussels, or mussel shells may not be taken, possessed, or collected for any purpose.

■ FISHING LINES • Anglers may not use more than two fishing lines, whether fastened to a pole, a rod and reel, or hand held. Anglers may use up to three hooks on each line, except as provided in the Ohio Administrative Code.

■ FORAGE FISH • Forage fish means freshwater drum, carp, quillback, suckers, bowfin, gar, buffalo, gizzard shad, and goldfish. These species may be taken by any method except by means of explosives, poisons, firearms, electricity, chemicals, nets, seines, or traps, or by snagging within 1,000 feet downstream of a dam. Gizzard shad and smelt may be taken with a minnow seine, minnow dip net, or hand landing net.

■ ICE ANGLERS • Ice anglers may use holes no larger than 12 inches in diameter. In Lake Erie ice anglers may use holes no larger than 12 inches in width. Ice anglers may not use more than six tip-ups and two rods per person. All shelters and tip-ups must display the name and address of the owner or user in English lettering.

■ LAKE STURGEON • The lake sturgeon is an endangered species in Ohio and must be returned unharmed to the water as soon as possible if caught.

■ LIVE RELEASE OF FISH • Any fish not of legal size or not legally caught must be released immediately. Handle it carefully with a wet hand or a wet towel so it can be freed unharmed. If the fish is hooked deeply and the hook can't easily be removed, cut the line to release the fish. Tearing a hook out can harm a fish so badly that it may not live.

■ MINNOW OR BAIT FISH TRAPS • It is illegal for anglers to possess or use a minnow or bait fish trap larger than 24 inches in length and 12 inches in width. Additionally, possessing or using a minnow or bait fish trap with an opening larger than one inch is illegal. ## CONSUMPTION ADVISORY

For fantastic fish recipes go to wildohiocookbook.com

Fish are nutritious and good to eat. Fish are low in fat, high in protein, and provide substantial health benefits when eaten in place of high-fat foods. While most sportfish taken in Ohio are safe to eat, chemicals such as mercury and PCBs have been found in some fish from certain waters. In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio.

You can obtain a free copy of Ohio's Fish Consumption Advisory by contacting Ohio EPA, Division of Surface Water, P.O. Box 1049, Columbus, OH, 43216-1049, or by telephone at (614) 644-2160, or online at epa.state.oh.us.

TAKE A KID FISHING

■ Don't become frustrated if their minds wander or they become bored. Fill slow times with teachable moments about what you're doing. Try discussing and handling the bait you are using, or take advantage of whatever is interesting now.

■ Let them reel in every fish - even yours.

FIND A PLACE TO FISH

■ Farm ponds are usually an easy place to fish. Remember to get permission and follow the landowners' rules.

■ Public waters offer more access, but the fishing tends to be more seasonal. Great seasonal bites include crappie, white bass, saugeye, and rainbow trout.

PROPER TACKLE AND RIGGING

■ Resist the urge to attract young fishermen with toy equipment. You can get a quality rod and reel for less than $20. Use catching fish as the attractor.

■ Use size-appropriate tackle. Smaller hooks, weights, and bobbers generally catch more fish.

■ Use live bait. Bait shops can help you find the appropriate bait, depending on what fish you are after.

■ Learn proper bait presentations so you are using the right rig in the right place at the right time.

CREATE AND PRESERVE THE MEMORY

■ Be enthusiastic! Celebrate all successes, no matter how big or small. All catches deserve applause, as do good casts, baiting hooks, and tying knots.

■ Take pictures and display them. It is amazing what children can recall from a picture.

■ Keep a journal. This will not only help accurately preserve your memories, but it will also help make them, and you, a better angler.

■ Keep their catch. A great sense of accomplishment can come from harvesting and eating something they caught.

Introducing a child to fishing can lead to a lifetime of discovery and respect towards the environment and our natural resources. While introducing kids to fishing can be quite rewarding, there are also many challenges in making those crucial first trips successful. For most kids, early success is what leads to future participation.

Following a few simple steps can help ensure good experiences that create lifelong memories.

DO YOUR HOMEWORK

■ Review the current fishing regulations online at wildohio.com or by calling 1-800-WILDLIFE.

■ Learn about the fish you are after. Look up seasonal tendencies, preferred natural foods, and lures and baits used to catch them.

■ Scout and pre-fish. Do not take the kids looking for fish. Find the fish first, and then take the kids.

■ Bait shops, Division of Wildlife fishing reports, and online forums are great resources for finding quality fishing on public waters.

MAKE IT FUN

■ Check your ego at the door. The trip is not about you - your attention should be directed towards helping.

■ Dress for the occasion. Wear comfortable clothing. Nothing ruins a trip faster than being too hot or too cold!

■ Pack drinks and food.
